Hi [REDACTED],

Thanks for taking the time to talk to me yesterday. As I mentioned, based on the information provided in the application, Queensland Health is satisfied that the risk of adverse health impacts from air emissions would be low if condition/s are set requiring;

- Emissions (including speciated VOCs) are monitored at the stack and from any other emission source/s on site; and
- Results are reported to DETSI, demonstrating compliance with relevant health-based guidelines.

QH is happy to provide guidance on the health-based guidelines when monitoring is undertaken.
